Better on so many levels.

When you talk to the top tier in property maintenance and facilities management, you'll quickly see why Minc continues to grow in size and reputation.

Offering a holistic maintenance, property, construction and facility management service, there's no one who takes greater pride in protecting their clients' property assets. Because after all, our reputation is built on the work we do.

We understand the value of word of mouth, and we're proud to say that relationships and referrals are our most powerful sales tool. Our clients control some of Australia's most prestigious properties. They know their business and expect the same from us. Our commitment to customer service and gaining a real understanding of our clients' needs is fundamental to our success.

As a national company, our project teams can tap into a variety of group-wide resources including specialised personnel, procurement networks, and the latest in planning, design and construction technology. But we know that personalised service is just as important, and that's where our franchise model works for you, providing a single, consistent contact who understands you and your business.

Across all types of properties – commercial, industrial, resort and residential – we've proven ourselves better on so many levels. We've helped clients large and small, such as KMART, WESTPAC, NRMA, NAB and Lendlease.

Today, we'd like to help you.

The highest level of service.

When it comes to your building or facility, we strive to provide the highest level of service in everything we do.

Dealing with multiple suppliers and contractors not only eats up your valuable time, but can result in mix-ups and inconsistencies. That's why Minc offers a comprehensive range of services all delivered to the highest standards, time after time. From the grounds to the roof and everything in between, we've got you covered.

We'd love to talk in more detail about what we can do for you. Browse through our individual service flyers or chat with a member of our team on 1300 88 64 62.

A commitment to excellence from top to bottom.

You'll find the Minc team to be reliable, friendly, experienced and innovative. As a full service provider, we can make your life easier while adding value at every level.

Reputation is everything in this industry, and we know that ours is reflected in our work. We're able to deliver consistent work at the highest standards by:

- Ensuring all Minc franchisees are carefully selected, highly skilled and licenced in their respective fields.
- Employing time tested systems that ensure quality, consistency and impeccable workmanship.
- Continually reviewing both processes and project outcomes to identify opportunities for innovation and improvement.
- Being truly committed to our client relationships. We value – and more importantly – act on the feedback we receive.

And on top of all that, we're proud to say we're Australian owned and run.
